1. Backyard Pullao	Easy	This tour is ideal for exploring the area around the hotel, our greenhouse and sustainable kitchen garden that includes a plant nursery, stables and a compost area. Here we can also see the Pullao Wetlands, part of the Western Hemisphere Shorebird Reserve Network (WHSRN). Depending on the time of year, we might spot scientifically-important migratory birds such as godwits, Chilean flamingos, cormorants, ducks and gulls. There are also salmon farms, mussel farms and seaweed collectors.
2. Rilan Peninsula	Easy	Discover the beauty of Rilan Peninsula with its cultural wealth and rural life in this excursion which takes us past the patrimonial church of Santa Maria de Rilan, built in the neo-gothic style with a shingled exterior typical of the area. Following a visit to the village of Rilan, with its beaches north and south, we return to the hotel via a scenic route overlooking the Castro Fjord.
3. Historic Castro	Easy	This tour follows the tides to show you the traditional palafitos (stilt houses) of the island's capital. We visit the picturesque Yumbel Market selling typical regional products such as Chiloé potatoes, giant garlic, baskets, weavings and a wide variety of seafood. We see the inspiration for Chiloé's classic postcard: the colorful stilt homes and charming downtown with small craft shops and wood-shingled stores. We continue on our way to the catholic church of San Francisco which is the capital's main one, declared a National Monument and UNESCO World Heritage Site. We also visit the shipyard, birthplace of our boat "Williche," and see local boats being built. Finally, we visit Nercon church, which nicely represents the Chiloé Wooden Architecture School.

4. Bosquepiedra – Land of Myrtle	Easy	We start the day by visiting Huillinco Lake, Chiloé's biggest and part of the watershed system so important to island life. Then, we take a magical path through an evergreen native forest with cinnamon, coigüe, hazelnut and maño trees, and wide variety of ferns and lichen. After lunch, on the way back to the hotel we meet a local farmer who shows us her myrtle crop and invites us to enjoy a typical Chiloé bonfire around which she shares her stories.
5. Muelle de las Almas Bridge of Souls	Medium	Driving across the island, along the shore of Huillinco Lake with its lush vegetation dominated by large ferns and native trees, we come to the open sea, and wild Pacific coast of the island. Here we hike through low forests, stunted by the wind, until we reach the cliffs at the edge of the island. We arrive at a place where a local sculptor has paid homage to the legend of the boatman Tempilcahue and his "Bridge of Souls" with a special wooden sculpture. From the highest point on the cliffs, you can see a colony of sea lions below and a great variety of ocean birds. On the way back to the hotel in the van, we stop along the way to visit a Chilote woman, who is renowned for her fresh empanadas. Here we can taste typical flavors of the island before returning to the hotel.

EXCURSION	LEVEL	DESCRIPTION
6. Duhatao - Chepu	High	We take the Pan-American Highway towards the north end of the island. We start our hike at sea level in the Bay of Duhatao, climbing up to natural lookout points to view our surroundings and the magnificent Pacific Ocean. With each step, we enter deeper into the heart of the mountains and forest. As the sound of the sea fades, birdsong takes its place. After ascending the mountain by way of a route which is part of the Sendero de Chile (Path of Chile), we descend to a little-known beach. We walk along this beach until we arrive at the mouth of the Chepu, one of Chiloé's biggest rivers, where we take a boat upriver. Near the end of our excursion, we enjoy the view of Chepu's Bosque Hundido (Sunken Forest) from the boat.
7. Bosque Hundido - Playa Guabil - Muelle de la luz Sunken Forest - Guabil Beach - Bridge of Light	Easy	We travel by van until we reach Chepu, where we sail downriver until we meet the sea. Here we walk to the south of the river, through native forests and low lying trees blown by the wind until we reach Guabil Beach, with its green rolling hills, characteristic of the western coast of Chiloé, which fall suddenly into the ocean. After we see an old beached ship, we return to the river mouth and ride to the Muelle de la Luz (Bridge of Light) where old people say that at night many lights can be seen in the sky, on the horizon and in the ocean; lights from a witch or from a Caleuche (mythical ghost ship) or from other planets. We head back to our boat and make our return upriver through a beautiful area of submerged forests. We lunch in the area before returning to the hotel.
8. Isla Quinchao Quinchao Island	Easy	We drive to Dalcahue, which is still a "place of dalcas," (canoes in the indigenous Williche language). We catch the ferry to Quinchao Island and head to the capital, Achao, which is also a meeting point for the inhabitants of the smaller surrounding islands. This is home to one of the oldest churches in the archipelago, also a World Heritage Site, assembled with wooden dowels. Then we head to Curaco de Velez, a town of seafaring people and home to 100+ year-old houses with colorful tiled exteriors. We stroll through the streets and visit the beach known for oysters, visit the small museum and watch black necked swans. We visit a local organic farm in order to learn about Chiloé's farmers and their famous native potato and giant garlic crops. We take a break at a hidden natural lookout, while we snack on foods from the farm. On the return trip, we pass by Dalcahue, where artisans from surrounding islands travel each week to sell their weavings, baskets and wood work at a must-see craft market with centuries of history.
9. Cole Cole Beach, Chiloé National Park	High	We drive to Cucao, on the western coast of the island, the starting point for our adventure. We drive northward along the beach for 12 km (7 1/2 miles) and witness one of the Chilotes' typical activities: foraging for razor clams from the sea. We arrive at a small stream toward the end of the beach in the Huentemó Sector, where we begin our 8 km ( 5 miles) hike. The walk takes us through some of the island's best forests and cliffs, following the coastline with spectacular views, until we arrive at the lovely, remote Cole-Cole Beach with its white sands, the ideal place to enjoy a Tierra Hotels-style picnic.
10. Chonchi - Lemuy Island - Pindal Forest	High	We travel to Chonchi, a traditional fishing town, situated upon three natural terraces that conserve its identity and tradition. We visit the historic church whose vaulted roof is painted blue, sprinkled with white stars. We head towards the coastroad, walking down the town's most typical street, declared a National Monument for its traditional large wooden houses, which reflect the wealth generated by an increase in cypress exploitation. We visit the local "Chonchina Traditions Museum," founded by the villagers to preserve their own history and show how the first inhabitants lived. We visit the charming Chilote accordion museum, born of folklorist and local music legend Sergio Colivoro's passion for the instrument. Continuing towards the coast road, we pass by the local craft market where you can also buy traditional Chonchina doughnuts and typical Chiloé "golden liquor."  We cross Lemuy Island to visit three churches that are World Heritage sites: Ihuac, Detif and Aldachildo. We enjoy various panoramic views before arriving at the Pindal Reserve, a native forest with coigües, arrayanes and cinnamon trees. The song of the chucao bird transports us to the deepest depths of Chiloé's wilderness.

This area's unique geography allows us to sail to the heart of the island by way of the Pindo Estuary's calm waters.
